Mr. T. B. Queen, of Owensboro, was here Wednesday.

Mrs. M. J. Land, of Florence, Ind., is visiting her son, Mr. Wm. Cooper.

Mr. W. W. Newsum and wife arrived from St. Louis, Mo., last Saturday.

Capt. Johnston went to Louisville Monday night with the remains of G. G. Louisville.

Miss Thieba left for Fashion Monday night to visit relatives and the Exposition.

Mrs. C. W. Moorman and Miss Amanda and Jennie Doss left Sunday night for Louisville.

Mr. Alf. Roberts, Jr., and Mr. Alf. Roberts, Jr., of Hardinsburg, went to Louisville Sunday.

Mr. Wm. Hawkins, Mr. Chas. Jennings, and Mr. Lucius Chapin, went to the Exposition Sunday.

Misses Lou and Nannie Sawyer left Monday night for Fashion to visit the Exposition and relatives.

Miss Lou McNaughton, of Toluca, Ind., left Monday night for Fashion to visit the Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brashers, of Stephensport, are guests at the Phoenix Hotel.—[Courier-Journal.]

Mr. John Ditt, of Meade county, left last week for Louisville to accept a position there on a sugar plantation.

Mrs. E. A. Beard, Mrs. Harriet Board, and Mr. W. E. Beard, of Hardinsburg, were here Sunday on route to the Exposition.

Misses Christina Cooper and Ida Robinson leave to-day for Florence, Ind., to spend several weeks visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. W. E. Minor and her daughter, Miss Eliza Brooks, of Holt, are visiting Mrs. E. S. Stuart, 118 Gray street.—[Courier-Journal.]

Mrs. Ben Bates and son, Sam Hall, Miss Maggie Allen, Miss Susan Johnson, and Col. Chas. Smart, of this city, went to Louisville Monday night to take in the "Ex."

Misses Jennie and Belle Davidson, of Falls of Rough, Ky., accompanied by Miss Emma Dyer, of Cloverport, Ky., are at the Phoenix Hotel.—[Courier-Journal.]

Mr. and Mrs. Brashers, Misses Ida and George White, and Wm. Vest and wife, compose a party from Cloverport who are registered at the Louisville Hotel.—[Courier-Journal.]

LOCAL BREVITIES.

It is winter "for a fac'."

Fresh oysters at Scifried's.

The river is falling again.

The Southern Exposition closes Saturday, November 10.

Cloverport was largely represented at the Exposition last week.

The last grand jury failed to find any indictments in this section.

Wanted—A patent flea catcher. Apply at this office and to several Cloverport women.

The Elm Street Methodist Sunday school will hereafter open at 9 a. m. instead of 8 a. m.

Eugene Kingsbury and Henry Murphy left for Florida last week to build Hon. W. D. Holt's winter residence.

25,000 Florida oranges were distributed to the visitors at the Exposition last Thursday. It was "Florida Day."

Mr. A. C. Locke, 313 Magnolia avenue, Louisville, Ky., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters completely cured me of dyspepsia after other remedies failed."

Our fair friend and patron, Mrs. Kate Connor, of Home, Ind., has sent us a 9 pound sweet potato, raised in her garden. It is the largest we have ever seen outside of Florida. She will please send the thanks of the editor and his tribe.

Sam Hovious presented us with a pod of the "Yankee bean" grown in his garden in this city, that beats any thing in the bean line we ever saw. It is twelve inches long, one inch and a quarter wide; half an inch thick, and weighs five ounces.

The dry goods and notions house of Messrs. K. Knott & Son, No. 556 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, is one of the most enterprising and reliable establishments in the west. Breckinridge county is represented in the house by our young friend Murray Pierce, who would be pleased to have all his old friends call upon him when they visit the city.

Our young friend, Mr. F. F. Wilkerson, who has for the past two years been employed in the store of Mr. J. D. Babbage, left Monday night for Louisville, where he has been tendered and accepted a lucrative position in the wholesale department of the mammoth establishment of J. Bacon & Sons. Cloverport has contributed many bright young men to the business needs of Louisville, but never one more certain to make his mark in the future mercantile history of the metropolis than Forrie Wilkerson. We shall watch his career with great interest.

Poor Gus Laufer is dead. He was a fellow of infinite jest—every disposition, a charitable heart and free hand. An artist, a musician, a sweet singer, he was a universal favorite in the community. He was not without faults, yet he possessed many counterbalancing virtues. Let his few faults be buried with him and his virtues only remembered. It seems strange to see the shapely young sapling fall about us while so many old and gnarled oaks are left standing. Yet it must be. Poor Gus! We drop a tear on his grave and store his memory away in a warm corner of our heart.

Dirn.—At the "Chateau Elysee," Cloverport, at 9 o'clock Sunday night, the 21st instant, after a long illness, Mr. G. G. LATZ, aged about 26 years. This case seemed to be progressing very favorably, when all at once some spring of life seemed to give way, and he sank into death quickly and painlessly. The remains were taken to Louisville on the Monday night packet for interment. Mr. Laufer had been in the employment of the Coal and Oil Company of this city for a number of years as book-keeper, and had greatly endeared himself to our people, who received the tidings of his unexpected demise with feelings of profound sorrow. He was a native of Louisville, where his mother resides, who not notified of the illness of her boy because no one dreamed that it would prove mortal.

Oyster Supper Friday Night.
The ladies of the Elm Street Methodist church will give an oyster supper at Fisher's Hall on Friday night, the 26th instant, for the purpose of procuring funds to furnish the parsonage. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged at the door, and oysters served in any style desired, at the customary prices. Every body—single and married, old and single, engaged couples and courting couples, boys and girls, uncles, aunts and cousins, are cordially invited to attend. Remember, next Friday night and Fisher's Hall.

Notice.
All persons knowing themselves indebted to the undersigned will please come forward and settle at once and save costs. Wm. Coopers.

IN MEMORIAM.

Julius A. Snider.

The subject of this notice was born June 7, 1857, and died October 14, 1883. "Julius," as we called him, was a Christian, therefore a consistent member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church for about nine years. From the first of his sickness he appeared to have an intimation that he would not recover, and seemed to grow worse until his spirit took its flight to a better world than this.

A short time previous to his death his mind seemed to become clear, while his countenance seemed to brighten and beam with hope, which is an anchor to the soul. This is when it was that he began to tell of his bright forebodings and prospect of soon entering that haven of eternal rest, which remains only for the people of God.

Among his last words, "ere his spirit took its flight," were: "There is a better world than this." O, what a gap in the world is made by the death of those we love! It seems no longer whole, but a poor half world that swings uneasily upon its axis, and makes us dizzy with the clatter of its wreck.

Julius Snider leaves a darkened home, with a loving companion and four little children (three girls and a son) to mourn his loss—also a twin brother—with other brothers and sisters, father and mother, grandfather and mother.

Julius was married in January, 1872, to Miss Sarah Durham, of Hardinsburg. His remains were brought to Freedom church on the next evening (Sunday), and in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives, were laid away in the "Old churchyard," there to await the resurrection morn. H. C. TRUMAN, GARFIELD, October 18, 1883.

Marriage License.
Issued from the office of the clerk of the Breckinridge county court from October 15 to date:

James O. Burch to Miss Fannie McGill; Dennis Sherman to Miss Mary E. Ryan; Horace Snyder to Miss Polly F. Dowell; Melville Ekridge to Miss Bettie M. Morris; Samuel R. Payne to Miss Bettie A. Bridwell; Benjamin A. Parks to Miss Fannie L. Bridwell; Robert F. Carr to Miss L. B. Hardy; Udotho W. Jones to Miss Sallie McMeador.

BREWLEYVILLE.

We have had a rain.

Wheat sowing is drawing to a close with us.

Maud Addison is still ill with typhoid fever.

Miss Bettie Drury is visiting in Louisville this week.

Miss Annie Stallings, of Louisville, is visiting Mrs. Lucy Drury.

Charles Hardaway goes to the city Saturday to see the Exposition.

Mrs. Pennington and son Robert have returned from the big Exposition.

Mr. A. H. Cain has an attack of erysipelas, which confines him to his room.

Mrs. Thomas Payne, residing near this place, has sold over 500 dozen eggs since March.

Mr. Frank Peyton contemplates moving to Muldran and going into the hotel business.

Rev. G. S. King spent Thursday night in this community, the guest of Mr. Tom Hardaway.

Rev. B. L. Davidson and wife spent Wednesday night and Thursday in the community.

Mr. Bony Bell, late of Hardinsburg, has purchased the Hinsley farm, one mile south of this place, and now resides on it.

Mr. Silas Jourdan and family, three of whom have been quite low for the past week with typhoid fever, are convalescent.

Mr. Frank Gross, residing about three miles from Brewleyville, died on Monday morning, and was buried Tuesday at Bethel burying ground, by the Masonic Lodge of this place.

MARRIAGE.—At the residence of the bride's father, Squire Riley Dowell, near Brewleyville, on Wednesday at 6 p. m., by Rev. G. S. King, Miss Polly Dowell to Mr. Horace Snyder. After the ceremony the guests partook of an elegant supper spread by Mrs. Dowell, and on Thursday all were invited to dinner. Mrs. Snyder's, where they did ample justice to the tempting viands set before them. QUINCY.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

A Republican Journaler Who Promises to Comfort Himself by Picking up the Bits He Can Get Before the Storm Bursts.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Your correspondent was discussing the results of the late elections with an office-holder of some prominence yesterday. The gentleman did not disguise his disappointment over the large democratic majority in Ohio.

"It is no use talking," he said, "the republican party has got to go, and we might as well make up our minds to get out. For my part I propose to devote the rest of my official existence in saving money and getting ready to leave the shower comes."

It will be cold weather for republican office holders in 1885, and I intend to pick up a nice little independent business in 1884 and retire as gracefully as I can from the anxieties of public life.

"That is a reasonable conclusion," I replied. "I think it is too," he continued.

"The government officials are discussing these things in earnest. They almost all believe in their hearts that their days of official existence are numbered. Consequently, you will notice that they are beginning to live close, save money, and look around for chances."

"How do you account for the decay of the grand old party any way?" I inquired.

"Well between you and me the people are disgusted with it. I would not like to be quoted as saying it, but they have good reasons to be. The whole crowd is in bad odor, from the President down. Look at him now. Away all the time junketing. A sort of Newport dude, man milliner, society flunky. You take my word for it, the White House is going to be the dude headquarters this winter."

"The crowd have all been invited to come, and they are coming. If there is any place in this country that is unamerican, and disgracefully given over to an exaggerated imitation of English manners of the upper, which are the worst class in it, is Newport."

And the president of the United States finds his most congenial company in this makeshift crowd. Bah! but aside from individuals the party has gone to the dogs any way. There is the star route disgrace, like a millstone. There is a whole necklace of such ornaments for that matter. The star route trial which squandered as much of the people's money as the thieves stole, is the next link. Then there is the exposure of official dilatoriness in the Supervising Architect's office just brought out. The Pension office pretending to pay fifty millions a year to wounded soldiers is a rotten thing. Then the land grab and the salary grab, the official vacations and junketings and squandering of public money all over the land has brought the party to judgment and condemnation. It has been supposed that this is a republican country. But it is now governed by an aristocracy of army and navy officials—a rich oligarchy of snobs who summer at Newport—and an official crowd who loiter about the public offices, draw large salaries for doing nothing, and make a business of showing their contempt for people who work. These are the three classes who rule the republican party, and Arthur is their prophet and leader. He is not a republican. He is an aristocrat in sentiment, and a feeble imitation of one in practice. Yes, I know that it is high treason to talk so, but I am mad over this Ohio election, and the truth will come out any way. I arraign the republican party for its hypocrisy, its shame and shame, even for its want of respect for itself. Office grabbing has got to be such a business with it, that the party is torn to pieces over it. Your correspondent was unable to weep with him who mourned on this occasion. He only told what every body now acknowledges, that the republican party has outlived its usefulness and must go. But his remarks on the official corruption of the times are so true that they are worth printing. He speaks of that which he knows. The Ohio election is looked upon by the far-sighted as virtually settling the question of the next presidency. A democratic president will be elected sure, and as Speaker Randall said the other day, "By the eternal we will put him in."

CHAPTER XIII.

In the preceding chapters of this truthful history we have endeavored to instruct and to please; that we have been successful in this we are amply assured. The Great Southern Exposition, now drawing to a close, has attracted multitudes of men, women and children to Louisville, who have been amply repaid for their trouble and expense in coming here. Our store has been constantly thronged in all its departments. We have made many new friends, and have, very naturally, done an immense business. Persons who have patronized us this season will continue to do so in future, because we have sold them clothing of our "own manufacture." We gave them full value for their money; we have pleased them; we have satisfied them; and we have their promise to call and see us again, and we know they will do so when they find out we have misrepresented nothing, which the "wear and tear" of the goods will prove. To the gentlemen who have patronized our "Merchant Tailoring" department, we wish to say: their measures are kept on record, and the same good fit can be had any time afterwards, as the patterns by which the suit of garments are cut, are preserved for future orders.

Gentlemen who have left "standing measures" are respectfully informed that whenever it suits their pleasure to write for samples of piece goods, with price list and fashion plate, their favor shall have prompt attention, and any order we may be favored with shall have our best attention, and be forwarded by express, or otherwise, "on time."

To the ladies accompanied by their boys, or sisters with their little brothers, who have so generously patronized us, we extend a cordial invitation to call again; we shall always endeavor to make their call both pleasant and profitable.

To one and all we extend our thanks, and trust that the Great Merchant Tailoring and Clothing establishment of Louisville, Ky.—J. Winter & Co.—will be remembered by all with pleasure and satisfaction. "An revoir."

Very respectfully,

J. WINTER,

Louisville, Ky.

THE STATE NEWS.

At its last annual meeting the Ohio county fair cleared about $500.

"Fast, brilliant and fashionable" are the Diamond Dye colors. One package colors 1 to 4 lbs. of goods. 10 cents for any colors.

Louisville is flooded with counterfeit silver half dollars, which are very hard to tell from the genuine.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

John M. Palmer and Ben. Crutchlow quarreled near Owenton. Crutchlow was shot dead, and Palmer will die from a broken skull.

"Rough on Corns." Ask for Wells' "Rough on Corns." 15c. Quick, complete, permanent cure. Dorns, warts, bunions.

A little boy at Paducah was badly poisoned by eating green locust beans, and would have died had it not been for prompt medical attention.

"Mother Swan's Worm Syrup." Infalible, tasteless, harmless, cathartic: for feverishness, restlessness, worms, constipation. 25c.

James Howard Boggs, a respectable farmer near Richmond, has been arrested, charged with being mixed up in some way with getting a fraudulent pension claim.

"Rough on Corns." Quick, complete cure, all annoying Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Diseases. $1. Druggists.

Dr. J. Lawrence Smith, a famous scientist, of Louisville, a man honored and loved by all who knew him, died on last Friday in the sixty-fifth year of his age.

Every one should tell his neighbors that the best remedy for curing coughs and colds, and the only sure cure for consumption, is Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It is pleasant to take and very soothing and healing in its effects.

Edward Maloney, who lives near Big Clifty, Grayson county, was very dangerously cut with a knife and beaten with a club by James Fitzgerald, his stepson, on the evening of the 11th inst.

Ministers Sound its Praise.
Rev. Mr. Greenfield, Knoxville Tenn., writes as follows: "Samaritan Nerveine permanently cured my son of epileptic fits." Here's a food for thought. Sold by druggists, $1.50.

Mrs. McMichael, whose husband, Conductor Chas. McMichael, was killed in the freight explosion at Winchester a short while since, has sued the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Kentucky Central railroads for $40,000.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.
The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money returned. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by W. B. White.

A hieronymus table gave $1,000 for the privilege of running the nefarious machine on the grounds during the Hopkinsville Fair recently. After running until Friday night of the fair, the owners deposited $5,000 in bank.

A Run on a Drug Store.
Never was such a rush made for any Drug Store as is now at W. B. White for a Trial Bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons affected with Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, or any affection of the Throat, and Lungs, can get a Trial Bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at above Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

F. W. Stagle, the "boy murderer," was sentenced to be hanged at Somerset last Saturday.

No Grease for Him.
"When Greece her knees—Greece her knees—Greece her knees," stammered an embarrassed school-boy, forgetting the next line of his recitation. "There is no occasion to grease anybody's knees," answered his teacher. "Go and study your piece." Neither is there occasion to grease your hair. Parker's Hair Balsam is all the dressing you want. Restores the original gloss and color to gray or faded hair. Does not soil the linen; not a dye; good for the hair; prevents falling out.

Hooker Stivers, the murderer of Bart Scully, was convicted of manslaughter at Paris last Saturday, and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

Well Rewarded.
A liberal reward will be paid to any party who will produce a case of Liver, Kidney or Stomach complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure. Bring them along, it will cost you nothing for the medicine if it fails to cure, and will be well rewarded for your trouble besides. All Blood diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, and general debility are quickly cured. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price only fifty cents per bottle. For sale by W. B. White.

William Snowden, a prominent citizen of Clark county, has been arrested by the federal authorities charged with frauds on the pension bureau.
